On 2/3/82, information was received from the United States Attorney's Office, Eastern District of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PA, that a telephonic threat had been received by United States District Court Judge, Edward R. Becker.

In an interview with Judge Becker it was determined that at 10:10 a.m., this date, a call was received in his office by [REDACTED] Judge Becker's law clerk, from [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Becker advised that he had been hearing a case instituted by [REDACTED] against [REDACTED] from an alleged wrongful release that [REDACTED] had held with [REDACTED]. The action had been dismissed the previous day by Judge Becker and a request for leave to appeal by [REDACTED] not granted.

Judge Becker characterized [REDACTED] as unstable and possibly dangerous.

On this same date, [REDACTED] was interviewed at his residence. [REDACTED] was cooperative but upset with the disposition of his case. He stated that he was attempting to obtain the services of an attorney as up to this point he had been preparing his case himself. [REDACTED] said that in his telephone conversation of this a.m., that he had not intended a threat
